

I am concerned about what I read regarding your plans to eliminate regulation that limits the concentration of media in a metropolitan market. It is an obvious advantage to the corporations that own the media. What is the benefit to consumers from a reduction of choice?